LOCAL EVENTS.

An Old German Commits Suicide.

HE HUNG FROM A GAS FIXTURE.

The Washouts on the Railroads Being Rapidly Repaired—Other Interesting Items.

At 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon Coroner Meredith held an inquest upon the body of George Hiltenan, alias Schleigh, a German about 50 years of age who committed suicide by hanging himself earlier in the day. From the testimony it was learned that Hiltenan, who had roomed at Mrs. Regina Ziegenfuss' lodging house at No. 159 South Los Angeles street for several months during the summer, returned there on Tuesday last and was assigned to room No. 24. Although out of work he was apparently in good spirits and health, but he was not a very communicative man and very little was known of his private affairs. Yesterday morning he arose early and went out, but returned again unnoticed by the inmates of the lodging-house. At noon Mrs. Ziegenfuss went upstairs, brush and dust-pan in hand, to clean up the rooms and make the beds, but on opening the door of room No. 24 she saw the lodger hanging and screamed for assistance. One of her roomers, a railroad man named P. B. Moran, was on the stairway at the time. On hearing his landlady's scream he rushed up the stairs, and she managed to gasp out the account of what she had seen, and he stepped into the room. Hiltenan's body was suspended by the neck from a gas-pipe in the room by a piece of clothes-line. His neck was broken and the body was cold, as if it had been there for some time.

The Coroner and police were notified as soon as possible, and Officer Houston was dispatched to the house to cut the body down. An investigation of the room showed that Hiltenan must have cut a piece of rope sufficiently long for the purpose from a coil which was found in the drawer of the washstand. From marks upon the table it was evident that he had drawn it from its place under the gaspipe, stood upon it, and hitched his rope securely by a couple of half hitches, close to the ceiling, leaving the noose hanging loose. Getting down again, he had returned the table to its place, drawn a chair under the noose, stood upon it, placed the noose around his neck, drawn it tightly under his left ear, and jumped into the great "beyond." Death must have been instantaneous, as the cervical vertebræ was dislocated.

Two German laborers, named C. W. Kriebs and John Braun, testified that they had known him for over six years past, and that he was nicknamed "Gray Horse" among his companions because of his gray hairs. His name, they said, was Schleigh, and he had worked as a cement sidewalk paver and finisher for some time past, but of late had been out of work. They last saw him on Monday night at a saloon on Main street, at which time he was sober and apparently in good spirits. He had worked for Mr. Moulitor, on Adams street.

J. W. Wescott, the proprietor of a little grocery store next door to the lodging house, stated that on Sunday last Hiltenan bought a 5-cent loaf from him and asked permission to eat it in the store, as he was hungry and too proud to eat it on the street. Permission was accorded him and the grocer's wife gave him a glass of milk and a piece of cheese, for which he appeared to be very grateful. On passing the store yesterday morning at sunrise he spoke to the grocer and remarked that it was a fine morning and a "lovely one for old people."

The jury, on hearing the facts as stated above, returned a verdict of suicide by hanging.

Mr. A. Geiger, a cement-sidewalk contractor, called at the HERALD office last night and stated that Hiltenan had worked for him for several years, and, being a skilled mechanic, had always given him satisfaction. Owing to the decline of business he had not employed him lately, but had promised him work at the beginning of the new year. Mr. Geiger scouted the idea that Hiltenan had committed suicide on account of poverty, as he knew that he had money, and even should he be without ready cash, he had plenty of friends who would have advanced it to him at his request. He was of the opinion that Hiltenan was temporarily, deranged, and in support of this theory stated that about four weeks ago Hiltenan was sandbagged and robbed out on Adams street, at which time he received two nasty blows on the head. He has never been the same man since the robbery, and his friends are confident that these blows were the cause of the mental aberration which caused him to take his own life.

THE WASHOUTS.

Mail and Express Coming In—Lines Open Tomorrow.

The Santa Fe Railway Company now formally announces that all its lines will be open and in running order by Thursday of this week, and that it will receive freight for all points on that day. With a few transfers, all the lines in this system will be open today.

Yesterday trains ran on the Santa Fe between San Bernardino and San Diego by the Temecula route, and between San Bernardino and South Pasadena. Seven tons of mail, local and overland, of the last three days got into Pasadena yesterday. It was the intention of the company to send out wagons after the mail and the fifty-five pieces of baggage which came in at the same time, but as the roads are still bad, and as it was learned that the bridge over the river is now about completed, it was decided to let things remain as they are until today, when a train can be run in from Pasadena.

A great many people visited the river yesterday to see how the work on the bridges was progressing. The gang of men who are cribbing at the Santa Fe bridge above Buena Vista street had a large crowd of spectators. By nightfall the piers were completed, and a track will be laid across this morning. A train will be run out in the course of the day. As soon as the pile driver, which has been at work repairing the Ballona bridge, can be dispensed with there it will be brought down to start in on the work of rebuilding the bridge across the river in a permanent fashion. The cribbing is satisfactory for temporary use, but should a violent storm come on it would all be swept away. If the rain will hold off a few days more permanent repairs can be effected.

A train will probably get through the Cajon from the East today. Yesterday passengers were transferred through, having to walk only a short distance. These were the members of the east-bound party which left here last Tuesday and got only as far as San Bernardino.

Omnibus loads of passengers were sent to Pasadena yesterday to go East on the afternoon train.

The San Diego line will be open today with a transfer at Rivera. The 250 passengers from the East who were caught the other side of the Cajon last Monday, got into East Los Angeles yesterday afternoon and were brought over in omnibuses. They completed the distance into Los Angeles at about 6 o'clock—a week later than they had expected when they left Kansas City. With them came a quantity of mail which had collected at Barstow during the three days that they waited there before starting back to Albuquerque.

By Wednesday noon the Southern Pacific will be in operation in all its branches. Number 18 will leave for San Francisco at 1:40 p. m., and No. 19 will leave San Francisco for this city today at the usual time of 6 p. m., and will arrive here Wednesday afternoon at 4:10—barring unexpected delays, or set-backs in the work of repairs.

A regular through train from the East got into East Los Angeles on the Southern Pacific yesterday at 4:30, the Monte bridge having been completed and all the washouts repaired. The bridge over the river completing this connection was finished late last night—a temporary structure over which trains can move. The pile drivers having finished work on the upper bridge will begin work here today.

A force of 100 men has been sent down to the Santa Ana branch and it is hoped to have that open tomorrow or next day.

An east-bound train left East Los Angeles yesterday afternoon at 6, and an accommodation train will run up to Saugus this morning. The Santa Barbara division is still in a bad way and no trains can run for a day or two.

THE RAILROADS.

The Scott-Marble Franchise Revoked—Other Matters.

The City Council yesterday took action on the franchise granted about a year ago to L. F. Scott and J. M. C. Marble, as agents for the Los Angeles, Salt Lake and Atlantic railroad, for a right of way through this city. The agreement entered into involved, on the part of the city, the placing of deeds to certain pieces of property in escrow, and on the part of the company the paying for the construction of a part of the approaches to the bridges under which the track was to pass, the putting in of a levee on the east side of the river, and the beginning of work on the line within a year.

It appears that the city failed to fulfill its part of the contract, for the deeds for the property were never placed in escrow. It therefore becomes a matter of doubt whether the city can call upon the holders of the franchise to fulfill their part of the contract, and in default of their doing so revoke the franchise. This appears to be the view of the case taken by the holders of the franchise. Messrs. Scott and Marble were seen yesterday, but they declined to make any comment on the action of the Council. It is quite evident, however, from the unconcern which they exhibit that they do not consider that they have lost anything by it.

Various things are hinted by people who are well acquainted with the ramifications of this peculiar contract. It is said that Messrs. Scott and Marble are no longer the holders of the franchise, that they merely acted as agents for other parties and that in a short time the nature of the whole arrangement will be made public. It is also said that work will be begun between here and San Pedro in a few weeks at the outside. It is quite possible that when the mail blockade is raised, as it will be today, some important facts will come out in connection with the matter.

The Board of Supervisors yesterday granted a franchise to the Redondo Beach Railroad Company for a narrow-gauge railway. This company has recently purchased land from Milton Thomas for a depot site at the end of the Grand-avenue cable line.

The employees of the Southern Pacific have formed a club and will presently open a reading room and other appartments for social comfort in the old San Fernando street depot.

The Juch Opera Company.

Next week a season of Grand English opera by the Emma Juch company will commence at the Grand. The repertoire for the week will embrace the following popular operas: Mignon, Maritana, Carmen, Die Freischutz, Faust, Bohemian Girl and Il Trovatore. The company embraces among its members a number of the leading lyric stars of both Europe and America, including such well-known singers as Laura Bellini, Frank Baxter, Lizzie Macnichol, William Castle, Fanny Gonzales, Charles Hedmont, Susie Leonhardt, Alonzo Stoddard, William Bott and F. A. Guise. The various operas will be staged in the most gorgeous manner. The chorus will number fifty fresh and powerful voices and the orchestra will consist of thirty-two carefully selected musicians. Taking the organization in its entirety, it is without doubt the most thoroughly equipped that has been seen in this city for several years.

Miss Jarbeau.

Last night a full house above and below stairs at the Grand was a novel sight in these days. The attraction that drew out the crowd was Miss Jarbeau. She appeared here a year ago in Starlight, and when it was announced that she would entertain the playgoers of the city in the same musical farce-comedy, her admirers came out in force and filled the house. The music, dancing and "gags" all told. Some of the "gags" are a trifle stale, and there is a good deal of what they call horse play in Italian, but it requires no thought; it diverts the thoughts of the people from business and care and therefore it pleased. It will be repeated this evening.

THE COUNCIL.

The Utah Railroad Franchise Revoked.

THE CITY ATTORNEY'S OPINION.

The Bridges to be Repaired—The City Receiving Hospital—Other Business Transacted.

The City Council met yesterday morning, President Frankenfield in the chair, and Messrs. Hamilton, Bonsall, Van Dusen, Brown, Shafer, Summerland, Wirsching and McLain present.

The Street Superintendent objected to the payment for the wing dams on the east side of the levee, as they were not properly constructed. Referred to the Finance Committee.

The Street Superintendent asked that the lines of the Arroyo Seco be defined. Referred to the City Engineer.

The Street Superintendent asked that his chief clerk be allowed $100 per month. Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

The report of the City Engineer as published in the HERALD was read and adopted.

Special specifications for paving Temple street were read and adopted. These specifications provide that the cement must be mixed in the same block on which it is laid.

Ordinances of intention to establish the grades of portions of Fourth and Fifth streets were read and adopted.

An ordinance of intention to establish the grade of a part of Figueroa street was read and adopted.

An ordinance changing the grades of portions of Pearl and Seventh streets was read and adopted.

Ordinances of intention to improve portions of Buena Vista street, Castelar street and Rosas street, were read and adopted.

The City Attorney presented the following opinion: On December 7, 1888, the City Council passed an ordinance granting a franchise to the Los Angeles, Utah and Atlantic Railroad Company, and the city also agreed to convey to said company a strip of land sixty feet in width and extending along the east bank of the Los Angeles river from a point 360 feet north of Hoff street to the south boundary of the city; also three pieces of land lying on the east side of the river, south of Downey avenue and north of Chavez street. The conditions upon which said lands were to be deeded were that the said company would build a line of railroad from this city to Long Beach, and within one year from the passage of said ordinance, viz., December 7, 1888, construct a levee along the east side of the Los Angeles river from a point 360 feet north of Hoff street to the south city boundary, said levee to be built in accordance with the plans and specifications then on file in the office of the City Engineer, and to be so constructed as to prevent property belonging to the inhabitants on the east side of the river from being injured or destroyed in case of flood; said company was also to keep said levee in repair after the same was built. There was a proviso therein that in case said levee was not constructed within the time prescribed that all land therein agreed to be sold should revert to the city, and said right of way should be forfeited. It was also provided therein that the Mayor should execute a conveyance of said property which should be placed in escrow in the First National Bank, to be delivered to said company when the above conditions were performed. I have inquired at the First National Bank and have been informed that no such escrow has been left there. I have also examined the city and county records and find no record of the same, and from the best information I can obtain I am of the opinion that the deed was never executed or placed in escrow. This railroad company has failed to either build a railroad or construct a levee, as they were required to do, and has forfeited all right to said land, rights of way and franchise, and I advise that the Council formally declare such forfeiture.

The ordinance revoking and forfeiting the franchise was read and adopted.

An ordinance defining the lines of Scarf street was read and adopted.

The report of the Board of Public Works as published in the HERALD was read and adopted.

An ordinance of intention to pave Temple street from Main to Grand avenue was read and adopted.

The report of the Police Commissioners as published in the HERALD was read and adopted.

Mr. McLain wanted to know what was to be done for a Receiving Hospital.

Major Bonsall said that the understanding was that there was to be a Receiving Hospital there.

Mr. McLain said the understanding was that the old City Clerk's office was to be turned into a Receiving Hospital.

Major Bonsall moved that the Building Committee be instructed to provide a place in the old City Hall for a Receiving Hospital. Carried.

The Bridge Committee recommended that the Street Superintendent repair the Buena Vista-street bridge.

President Frankenfield called attention to the fact that the Santa Fe Company was responsible for the breaking of the Buena Vista-street bridge and should be requested to repair the same.

Major Bonsall wanted to know whether the city was going to allow the railroad bridges to be erected in opposition to the ordinances of the city. He said that as long as there was an ordinance it should be obeyed.

Major Bonsall moved that the City Clerk notify the railroad companies that they must construct bridges in accordance with the ordinances.

Mr. Van Dusen moved that the City Attorney take steps to have the Santa Fe repair the Buena Vista-street bridge.

The report of the Finance Committee was read and adopted, and the City Assessor was allowed a number of deputies, subject to the approval of the Council.

Afternoon Session.

Mr. Shafer moved that the ordinance relating to the delinquency of taxes be amended so that the Tax Collector shall not collect 50 cents where the property is not advertised. Carried.

The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, It has been made to appear that a bar on the New San Gabriel river, a short distance below the Sanford bridge, extends out into the river and causes the river to turn to the west bank of the river, and is causing great destruction of land and property, and by being so thrown against the west bank of the river, it is forced to turn again and flow heavily again against the east bank of the river, thereby cutting away good land and threatening further damage to other land; and

WHEREAS, The cutting of a channel through the sand-bar will straighten the channel and prevent great damage; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the citizens living along said river have permission of the Board of Supervisors to cut through said bar so as to straighten said channel.

Cancer of the Nose.

In 1875 a sore appeared on my nose, and grew rapidly. As my father had cancer, and my husband died of it, I became alarmed, and consulted my physician. His treatment did no good, and the sore grew larger and worse in every way, until I had concluded that I was to die from its effects. I was persuaded to take S. S. S., and a few bottles cured me. This was after all the doctors and other medicines had failed. I have had no return of the cancer.

ILLEGAL INSURANCE.

Companies Trying to Evade the Law.

DECEPTIVELY-WORDED POLICIES

Commissioner Merrill's Restrictions on the New York Life Concern.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

CHICAGO, December 30.—Insurance Commissioner Merrill has written an open letter to President Beers, of the New York Life Insurance Company, one of the three largest life insurance companies in the world, pointing out what he calls unlawful actions of said company. He charges the company with issuing a misleading policy, and making an unfair discrimination among insurants. The Commissioner says recently there came to the notice of the department a form of policy issued by this company called "ordinary wife distribution policy." A careful examination of this policy, he says, shows it to be not wholly inconsistent with the spirit of the statute, but contrary to its language, while its provisions render it unfair, misleading and ensnaring. Under its terms and in the practice of the company discrimination is made among insurants of the same class, and insurance is provided in a manner not permitted by law. Besides being unlawful, the terms and conditions attached render it, to an experienced applicant, very complicated and liable to misunderstanding and deception. There is, he says, no possible advantage in its intricacies to compensate for the confusion and liability to error and disappointment of the insured, and the only apparent or conceivable reason for the manner of constructing the premium, is to enable the company to evade the law and continue the forbidden rebate practice. It is clear, the Commissioner says, that this scheme in its general outline is such a departure from the established principles of the advance payment or old-line life insurance, as to justify under the law the restraint of its prosecution by any company authorized to operate within the commonwealth. If the issue of these policies is allowed to continue, not alone will the particular company which adopts it suffer in the character and in the quality of its business, but all companies will be compelled to struggle losingly under the unjust competition, or adopt similar unlawful schemes, to the general demoralization and loss to the whole life insurance interest. Major Benjamin Calef, the New England manager of the New York Life Insurance Company, said today he had received a copy of the Insurance Commissioner's circular, but did not think it incumbent upon him to say anything, inasmuch as it was addressed to the President of the company.

THE BARNWELL INQUEST.

A Terrible Sight Confronted the Coroner's Jury.

COLUMBIA, S. C., December 30.—The Coroner's inquest into the death of the eight negroes lynched at Barnwell was held Saturday night at the scene of the tragedy. It was a terrible sight which the jurymen looked upon. On the left side of the road were the bodies of Ripley Johnson and Mitchell Adams, charged with the murder of Hefferman. On the opposite side were the bodies of the six negroes charged with implication in the murder of young Robert Martin. They were tied to trees on the roadside, their backs to the saplings. Ropes were passed around the trees and around the bodies of the men. When shot, the weight of their bodies swung down on the ropes, and they occupied all sorts of grotesque and revolting positions.

The frightful character of the wounds is shown by the testimony of the physicians at the inquest and is in brief as follows: Henry Furse, ten balls in the body, age 24; Peter Bell, one ball in the back of neck at base of skull, age 60; Harrison Johnson, four balls in the body, age 35; Rafe Morrall, six balls in the head and body, either of which would have been fatal, age 60; "Judge" Jones, eight balls, one in the brain, age 28; Robert Phoenix, four balls in the body, age 27; Ripley Johnson, eight balls in the body, one in the face, age 30; Mitchell Adams, five balls, one through the brain, age 35.

On this testimony the jury returned a verdict that the eight men came to their death from gunshot wounds inflicted by some party or parties unknown.

After the inquest the neighboring negroes were notified that they might remove the bodies if they desired. The families of Ripley Johnson and Mitchell Adams removed their bodies to their homes, but the other six were treated as murderers and outcasts. There were none to mourn them. Neither whites nor negroes wanted to move the bodies. The town declines to bury them because they were killed outside of its limits, but offers to furnish coffins if the negroes will bury them. The remaining negroes declare they propose to pull up and leave the country. They assert there will be no retaliation.

BLOCKS OF FIVE.

Colonel Dudley Afraid to Show Up in Court.

NEW YORK, December 30.—Judge Lawrence, of the Supreme Court, handed down a short opinion today, in which he says in effect that Colonel William Dudley, who is suing a half dozen New York newspapers for alleged libel in the publication of the "blocks of five" letters, cannot expect favors from the Court when he persistently refuses to obey its orders. This decision denies the motion by plaintiff to vacate the order for a substituted service on him in order for his examination before the trial to enable the defendants to prepare an answer. The Judge says as he keeps without the territorial limits of the State and refuses to obey the order of the Court, he cannot be heard affirmatively in opposition to the order.

THE CHEROKEE QUESTION.

What the Commissioners Say in Their Report.

ST. LOUIS, December 30.—What purports to be a synopsis of the Cherokee Commissioners' report to Congress is printed here. It characterizes the dilatory tactics of the Cherokees as a gross discourtesy to the Government, and denounces the action of the cattlemen in making fictitious bids for Indian lands. The report recommends that the Government avail itself of its undeniable right under Section 15 of the treaty to settle civilized Indians on unoccupied lands in the Cherokee nation, proper, upon the payment of such sum as shall be agreed upon by the Indians; or in the case of their disagreement, the price per acre to be fixed by the President. By the payment of $2,500,000 to the Cherokees fully 10,000,000 acres now occupied by tribes west of the ninety-sixth degree, could be opened to settlement; while on the other hand $7,000,000 expended for the Cherokee outlet, would only secure 6,000,000 acres, inferior in quality to lands now owned by the Government, but occupied by Indians who have no title to the soil, but only the right to occupy it at the Government's pleasure. The Commissioners also suggest the opinion that the alleged "Cherokee Nation," with laws passed and administered by white men who are really United States citizens, has become extinct by virtue of long continued inter-marriage between Indians and whites, and asks if the strict sense of justice warrants the disposition of Indian annuities and other revenues equally among white United States citizens and full blood Cherokees.

NORTHWESTERN WEATHER.

Saturday Night's Blizzard Accompanied by Strange Phenomena.

ST. PAUL, December 30.—Advices here seem to indicate that the great snow storm of Saturday extended over a large area. Rumors were rife in the newspaper offices that many wires west of here were down and travel delayed. The center of disturbance appears to have been at Huron, where the wind veered to the north, and the storm increased until it became a terrible blizzard, blowing fifty miles an hour. The memorable experiences of two years ago have prevented the people from unduly exposing themselves on the prairies, and no bad results are anticipated. The storm has been marked in places by singular phenomena. At Winona rain descended in great sheets, and the whole city was flooded. When the rain stopped the mercury fell thirty degrees in four hours. People can skate to business this morning. At other points electrical disturbances preceded the fall of snow. Duluth was visited with a severe blizzard, ushering in the heaviest snowfall of the season. Much damage has been done in the city, and street cars are blockaded. Trains are delayed by drifts six feet deep in many places.

THE HALF-BREEDS' BLUFF.

They Didn't Shoot to Kill When They Routed the Squatters.

ST. PAUL, December 30.—News was received here this morning from Pierre that the half-breeds did not shoot to kill in the affray at Bar river with settlers. The ownership of the 200 acres south of Bar river, over which the trouble was reported, has been in controversy for some time. The citizens of Pierre and new-comers have insisted that they had as much right to the reservation opposite Pierre as had the half-breeds and real estate dealers. The matter culminated by about fifty men crossing the river with twenty loads of lumber and taking possession of an unplatted portion a mile square. They platted this out and named it South Pierre. Meanwhile a band of thirty half-breeds collected, who rode in flourishing their weapons and ordering the settlers to leave. The few who remained to brave the storm then raging, readily gave way, but will return today with increased forces. About two hundred shots were fired by the half-breeds, in the air, for the purpose of intimidating the settlers, but no person was hurt.

A Strike on the Mackay Roads.

TERRE HAUTE, Ind., December 30.—The freight crews have struck on the Evansville and Terre Haute and Terre Haute and Indianapolis roads. Several conductors were relieved yesterday without charges being preferred. This morning a committee from the firemen, engineers conductors, brakemen and switchmen sent a message to Mackay, asking that the men be reinstated until charges were preferred against them, and that Superintendent Hurd be suspended pending an investigation of the charges against him. Mackay declined, and the men went out. The men say it is the purpose to get rid of the conductors who belong to the Brotherhood organization.

Condensed Telegrams.

An English syndicate has offered $18,000,000 for the Granite Mountain mine in Montana.

Alexander Hamilton, grandson of the first Secretary of the Treasury, died on Monday morning at Irvington, on the Hudson, in his seventy-ninth year.

Three carloads of Pinkerton detectives have gone to Walston, a mining town six miles from Punxsutawney, Pa., where trouble is feared from striking miners.

Edward Hanlan is out with a reply to the challenge of Jake Gaudaur, in which he says he will row Gaudaur for from $2,000 to $5,000 before next July. He leaves the water to the referee.

The academy of music in the course of erection on Thirteenth street and Washington avenue, St. Louis, collapsed. The building had gone up as high as the third story. Fifty workmen in the building miraculously escaped injury, except one who was slightly hurt.

Word comes from the Indian Territory that two notorious Indian desperadoes took possession of the town of Ishwawa and carried things with a high hand. In the midst of the excitement a quiet stranger appeared, and when pounced on by the desperadoes, shot and killed both of them.

A terrific explosion of gas occurred in a two-story brick building at the corner of Elysian, Field and Victoria streets, New Orleans, demolishing two buildings and burying six persons beneath the debris. Firemen and policemen succeeded in rescuing them without serious injuries.

President Rumsey, of the Granite Mountain Mining Company, says there is no probability of the property going into the hands of an English syndicate; that the stories to that effect are imaginary, and an attempt to purchase the stock at $45 a share would lift it away above that figure at once.

The Canadian Pacific's statement shows a surplus above fixed charges, for the year, of $2,250,000 which, added to the surplus from last year, would make the total surplus $2,576,000 at the close of the present year. It has been decided to declare a supplementary dividend of one per cent., payable February 17th, with the regular one, and the half-yearly dividend from the annuity fund in the hands of the Dominion Government, making the total for the half year of 2½ per cent.

TUESDAY, DEC. 31, 1889.

Mr. Glassell on the Sewer Proposition.

Elsewhere appears a somewhat lengthy communication from Mr. A. G. Glassell, who avails himself of the privilege accorded by the Council to the citizens and taxpayers to discuss the several features of the suggestions of the Board of Engineers. Our City Fathers doubtless desired to avail themselves of the general judgment of our people before submitting the matter to a vote.

It will be observed that Mr. Glassell calls attention to the extremely expensive character of the Ballona Outfall Sewer, the estimated expense of which has been increased from $440,000, the proposition voted down by the taxpayers at the recent election, to $696,775. The addition is quite enormous, and in the judgment of the average Angeleño no good reason can be shown for it.

We had previously pointed out the largely expanded estimates of the cost of the projected sewer system, and also called attention to the fact that the engineers themselves admit that the best disposition of the sewage of a city like Los Angeles, in view of the peculiar characteristics of its surroundings, was to apply it to purposes of irrigation. Mr. Glassell correctly points out that the Messrs. Herring and his associates were only withheld from decisively recommending such a use of the sewage by the legal fact assumed by them that the city had no right to pollute the waters of a stream like the Los Angeles river.

It is here that not only the arguments but the personality of Mr. Glassell as a distinguished lawyer come into play. He asserts that this assumption of the committee is purely gratuitous, and that there are two methods by which the good offices of the Los Angeles river can be availed of in the winter season, on the few occasions in which it will be necessary to rely upon them. One of these methods is to purchase several hundred acres of land aligning the river, and the other is the familiar process of condemnation. He also reminds the Council that Mr. Tweedy, who owns two thousand acres of land to the south of the city not only offered to receive the sewage but to pay for the privilege of using it.

The HERALD showed, some time ago, that the whole sewage of the great city of Berlin is disposed of on sewer farms located respectively six, eight and twelve miles from the city. In that article the opinions of a corps of distinguished English engineers who had inspected the system were given to the purport that no detriment to health was noted from the contiguity of these sewer farms to the neighboring residents. In the same connection was quoted the opinion of Dr. Frankland, an eminent English physician, who said that one acre, properly drained, would render innocuous the excreta of 3,300 persons. On the supposition that an acre should be allotted to each thousand inhabitants, it was demonstrated in these columns that a sewer farm of one hundred acres would be ample to dispose of all the exuviæ of this city for some years to come.

Mr. Glassell devotes some space to the remarks of the Board of Engineers concerning the deposition of the sewage in the ocean, and as a lawyer he gives it as his opinion that the city could be enjoined by owners of property adjoining the mouth of the sewer. But probably the greatest point made in his communication is the onerous expense of building the Ballona Outfall. We have seen these figures already swollen from $440,000 to $696,775. What guarantee have we that we shall not see this latter sum largely increased? The iron pipes by which it is proposed to carry the sewage out 2,000 feet into the ocean will also be exposed to constant rust, and will have to be renewed at a great expense.

Mr. Herring seems to have been paid a large sum to increase the already excessive outlay for the Ballona sewer by over a quarter of a million dollars. At the same time he has been careful to preserve his reputation as an engineer by making an elaborate argument in favor of using the sewage for irrigation. The chances of Angeleños getting an effective sewer system will unquestionably be largely increased by separating the proposition of sewering the city from that which proposes the building of the expensive annex to Ballona. The voter should have the privilege of declaring for just what he wants, and if that is not conceded to him the chances are imminent that the necessary two-thirds majority will not be obtained.

IT IS said that at the opening performance of Joan D'Arc at Paris yesterday the funeral pyre became ignited. This was very natural for a funeral pyre. But the strange part of the announcement is that Sarah Bernhardt, who was impersonating "Joan," fainted. This was an ordeal endured by a large number of people in St. Louis, where the lovely Bernhardt was wont to select the most conspicuous windows of the Southern Hotel for making her toilet after the bath. It is distinctly of record that quite a number of bald-headed men of that city went into conniption fits on observing Sarah's antics, and it is a notorious fact that during her stay in the Southern that portion of the city was generally deserted, even the charms of Tony Faust's unrivaled lunches and beer in the annex of the Southern being powerless to stay the emigration to less sensational portions of the city.

THOSE Brazilian Republicans are people of penetration, acumen and a fine sense of the relative value of things. They look over the papers of the United States, and read there a reflex of popular opinion, sympathetic to the extreme with their efforts and aspirations for self-government. Pleased with this they are content, knowing that the popular heart of the greatest of all republics and the first of all in the new world, is beating in perfect unison with that of the newest sister in the ranks of free government. They turn from this to the Government at Washington, where the powers that be are watching the new venture to see whether it will not walk off alone before stretching out a helping hand. This is not in sympathy with their cause, and might well distress less sagacious people; but these Brazilians say to themselves: "Oh, that is no matter. Mr. Harrison and his Jingo Secretary of State are not in sympathy with their own people. It does not matter what they think, so long as the American people are with us heart and soul, as they are!"

CONSIDERING the splendid work done by the Southern Pacific Railway in the Soledad Pass, after the floods of 1884, it is somewhat remarkable that the roadbed there did not hold its own better. There has probably never been an instance in California of a more thorough reconstruction than that, the work having, it is said, cost upwards of $2,000,000. There are few countries in the world where the water marks are more impressive than in Southern California, and the probability is extreme that in the railway building of the future here regard will be had to wet rather than dry years. It will pay in the end, as the Santa Fe officials would admit after their recent experience. And yet the temptation, founded on the ordinary seasons of California, is almost irresistible to put up light bridges and culverts.

One objection to Mr. Windom's silver proposition that we have not seen mentioned is that the repeal of the Bland law, which it proposes, would stop the purchase of the minimum of $24,000,000 worth of silver per year, which that law requires of the Secretary of the Treasury, and would increase the surplus just to that extent at a time when we are seeking measures for its reduction.—[Express.

The ink had scarcely dried on Mr. Windom's report when the HERALD called attention to that feature of it. It the cunning Wall-street people can once succeed in manipulating the Congress of the United States into the repeal of the Bland bill the work will be at once begun of hammering the price of silver down to that of copper. The HERALD at the time called the proposition the Trojan horse which would dismantle the whole silver edifice.

THE appointment of Mr. Green to the office of Postmaster of Los Angeles, notwithstanding the present incumbent's commission has over a year to run, gives great satisfaction to the Tribune and Express, but is gall and wormwood to the Times. The hollowness of the Republican profession in civil service reform is well illustrated in this appointment, and we are not astonished that the Times looks with displeasure upon this violation of a principle which Harrison subscribed to before his election, and which it doubtless fears will greatly injure its party in Los Angeles. The other Republican papers are in favor of the spoils system, no matter how much damage it may work to their party. At least that is the way we read the different attitudes taken by the three papers upon the ousting of Mr. Preuss.

WHILE we have had too much rain for the comfort of our merchants, whose stocks of holiday goods were not consumed to the extent expected, the fact should be borne steadily in mind that it is the testimony of the oldest inhabitants that Southern California has never suffered from too much rain. The bottom lands generally have it all their own way, and it is just as well that the mesas and desert lands should have an inning once in awhile. More value will be created in Antelope valley alone this year than has been suffered in damages by the whole of Los Angeles county.

SOMETIME ago the HERALD began an agitation for a Receiving Hospital. It thought it was a shameful thing that people injured unto death should have no place to which they could be taken and treated with becoming privacy. We are glad to be able to chronicle the fact that we are now to be supplied with this convenience of humanity. The Council has ordered the Receiving Hospital to be constructed, and it will be a fact accomplished in a short time.

THE Council has declared forfeited the franchise granted to the Messrs. Marble and Scott on the east side of the river. Its efficacy was dependent on work which was not done, and which should have been done by the 7th of the current month. It seems that the deeds to the lands that ought to have accompanied the franchise were never made out, so there was no occasion for vacating them.

THE City Fathers have ordered all the bridges repaired at the city's expense, except the Buena Vista-street bridge, which they think ought to be repaired at the expense of the Santa Fe Railway Company, its demolition having resulted from the hurling of the debris from the Santa Fe's bridge on the city's structure. Whether the railway company will plead the act of God remains to be seen.

NATIONAL AFFAIRS.

Does Canada Wish to be Annexed?

THE SENATORIAL INVESTIGATION

The Australian Voting System Denounced—Samuel J. Randall Reported Dying.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

NEW YORK, December 30.—The Senate Commission on Canadian affairs met here today and heard the testimony of eastern fishermen in regard to the trouble they experienced in fishing and securing bait in Canadian waters.

Senator Hoar stated Great Britian had always conceded to the United States the commercial rights of fishing vessels. He always favorec the interpretation that the right was vested in the American fisherman.

Senator Pugh declared that Great Britain always acted in harmony with Canada on the question whenever the matter came up in the shape of a treaty or law. Our State Department should take steps and decide the matter.

In reply to a question by Senator Dolph for a remedy, one witness said the only remedy he knew of was in retaliation.

Erastus Wyman made an argument in favor of the annexing of Canada.

Senator Hoar said in his opinion and that of his colleagues the movement towards annexation must come from Canada.

Francis Wayland Glenn, a former resident of Canada, and a member of the Dominion Parliament for nine years previous to 1886, said: "Canada will come here unless the people of the United States themselves prevent her. She sees milk and honey beyond the St. Lawrence and she wants to share in it."

Glenn in support of his statement said Canada had adopted the free school system, decimal calculation and election methods of the United States, and was more eager to adopt American business principles than she was those of England. Canada also wanted access to American markets. He held, in fact, that she would declare her independence of English power, and annex to the United States. Witness did not favor the commercial union of which Wyman talked. Many leading Canadians, the speaker held, favored annexation. Instead of reading English magazines, the Canadians read American publications, and more Canadian youths are educated, he said, in American colleges, than in British universities. He thought that Sir John McDonald was a politician and not a statesman.

MONTREAL, December 30.—The Gazette foreshadows that the Government, which meets in January, will frame legislation necessary to extend the modus vivendi on the fishing question. The article says: "There is a hope of reopening negotiations with the United States, if not directly in connection with the fisheries, then in relation to the reciprocal interchange of products, and in that event it will always be a great and important advantage to have the fishery question in such shape that our rights can be finally insisted upon."

LA GRIPPE.

Ravages of the Disease at Home and Abroad.

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., December 30.—There are several well defined cases of la grippe in this city. No serious phase of the disease has yet developed.

SALINA, Kan., December 30.—There are five hundred cases of influenza in this city. In several instances whole families are afflicted.

NEW YORK, December 30.—According to the official records nearly 300 policemen are laid up with la grippe. The death of Patrolman Timothy J. Golden, today, is said to be the first fatal case of la grippe on the police force here. He was taken ill Saturday.

VIRGINIA, Nev., December 30.—Three attaches of the postoffice here are down with la grippe. Several other cases are reported, but of a mild type.

MONTREAL, December 30.—Nearly every medical practitioner in the city reports having some cases of influenza under treatment.

LONDON, December 30.—Influenza of a virulent type is raging in Birmingham.

BERLIN, December 30.—Statistics show a great increase in all maladies attendant upon influenza. For the third week in December there were 37 deaths from laryngitis, 122 from inflammation of the lungs and 10 from pleurisy. Dahn, the author, is ill at Breslau. Half the police of Mayence are affected. There are thousands of cases at Stuttgart, Augsberg and Cologne. There is no abatement in the severity of the cases at Vienna, where there have been many deaths from pneumonia.

STUTTGART, December 30.—Queen Olga, of Wurtenburg, is suffering from influenza.

THE AUSTRALIAN SYSTEM.

The Democrats of Maryland are Foremost It.

BALTIMORE, December 30.—The passage of an election law containing the features of the Australian ballot system, is doomed in Maryland. At a secret meeting of the Democratic editors of the State here today, United States Senator Arthur P. Gorman sounded the keynote. He is opposed to the passage of the Australian law by the general assembly, and he is opposed to the passage of any law like it. So are the majority of the Democratic editors of the State. Senator Gorman said: "There can be no question that a serious condition of affairs confronts us. The tide of immigration and the influences of the men who are coming hither are all averse to our views. Our majorities from natural causes are growing less, and the want of thorough coöperation amongst our people has also cut down our majorities. The elective franchise has been abused. Money has been poured out to capture elections fraudulently. As for the Australian system, you had better label it 'A Bill to Throw the Democratic Party in the Rear.' This system has had two trials in this country. One was in Boston, the other in Montana. The former, for years a Democratic strong-hold, went Republican at the last election under the Australian system by between 5,000 and 6,000 majority for the first time since 1864. Governor Houser writes me from Montana that we should have carried the State instead of having it hanging in the balance. The system that removes the voter from the influences of men who are intelligance to the box, leaves him to the danger of the money power. You pay a voter, if you pay him at all, in secret. By the Australian system he is exposed to the corrupt influences of bribery more than ever. Other matters to come before the Legislature are of vital importance, but this is one great thing to consider."

"History as She is Writ."

WASHINGTON, December 30.—At the second day's session of the American Historical Association, Dr. Goode, Assistant Secretary of the Smithsonian Institute, read a paper on the origin and early history of our national scientific institutions.

Dr. William A. Dunning, of Columbia college, followed by reading a paper on the impeachment and trial of President Johnson. The speaker said in the impeachment proceedings western people took leading parts, while eastern men were luke-warm. The explanation was that Senator Wade of Ohio, was booked for succession in case Johnson was removed. Wade was not a favorite among eastern men.

General Marcus J. Wright, of the War Records office, delivered an address on the trial and execution of John Brown. In connection with the charge of Dr. Von Halst, that Brown did not have a fair trial, General Wright cited the evidence of Senator Voorhees as to the fairness of the trial.

At the evening session papers were read by William H. Weeder, President of the Brown University Historical Association; by Hon. Wm. Henry Smith, General Manager of the Associated Press, and Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Civil Service Commissioner.

Tariff Hearing.

WASHINGTON, December 30.—During the tariff hearing today many statements were laid before the Ways and Means Committee, objecting to a reduction in duty on different chemicals. H. B. Rosengarten, of Philadelphia, advocated the restoration of the duty on quinine. W. D. Ferris, of New York, urged that the duty be kept on castor oil. F. Rawolle, manufacturer of glycerine and alcoholic varnishes, argued in favor of abolishing the tax on all alcohol. J. Caskey was an acquaintance of Davis fifty years. In the course of his remarks Caskey said: "It is said history repeats itself. If this be correct, then the truest instance of the repetition I know of is that the life of Jesus Christ is repeated to a great extent in the person of Jefferson Davis."

Developments in the Parnell Scandal.

HIS REPLY TO THE CHARGES.

Jackson Accepts Sullivan's Challenge Dom Pedro Utterly Prostrated. Lord Salisbury Ill.

[Associated Press Dispatches to the HERALD.

DUBLIN, December 30.—Parnell has written a letter to the Freeman's Journal, saying he has received no notice of having been made the co-respondent in a suit brought by Captain O'Shea against his wife for divorce. Parnell also says since 1880 he has resided at Captain O'Shea's house at Eltham. He was frequently there when O'Shea was absent, but the latter was cognizant of his being there. He declared that Houston, Secretary of the Loyal and Patriotic Union, instigated O'Shea to institute the proceedings for divorce in order to diminish the damages which may be awarded Parnell in his libel suit against the Times.

HOUSTON DENIES THE IMPUTATION.

LONDON, December 30.—Houston has written a letter denouncing the statement made by Parnell in his letter to the Freeman's Journal that he instigated Captain O'Shea to bring suit for divorce against Mrs. O'Shea. Houston says he had no knowledge of the action taken by O'Shea until he saw the announcement of the divorce case published in the papers Saturday.

O'SHEA'S ADVICE TO PARNELL.

LONDON, December 30.—An attempt was made today to interview Captain O'Shea regarding the statement made by Parnell in connection with the former's divorce suit. Captain O'Shea refused to discuss the matter, but he said he advised Parnell to assume the usual position of a co-respondent and to allow himself to be served with a citation. Captain O'Shea subsequently stated that there was not the slightest truth in Parnell's assertion that the suit had been instigated by the Times. Neither the Times nor Mr. Houston, he said, knew anything of the action before it became known to the public. In proof of this assertion he produced a letter from the editor of the Times, dated last evening, asking him to confirm or correct the report that he had filed a petition for divorce.

A two-story wooden building had been erected, which was to be set on fire. After the torch had been applied and the firemen had taken their places in different parts of the burning structure, it was discovered that the water supply prepared had been tampered with by some miscreant. The firemen were obliged to escape from the building as quickly as possible, some being compelled to jump from the roof. Twenty-two were injured, three fatally.

THEY BREATHE EASIER.

San Jose Property Holders Have Their Titles Approved.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 30.—This morning Judge Sawyer rendered a decision in the case of M. Teall and others against Mary Slavin and others, which involved the title to much of the land on which the city of San Jose was built. The decision is in favor of defendants, and it was virtually reached by a ruling in demurrer. The dismissal of the case will be the subject of much congratulation among San Jose land owners whose titles were thus jeopardized. Had the demurrer been overruled, and the case set for trial, much valuable property in San Jose would have been naturally tied up and values impaired.

Kemmler's Forlorn Hope.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., December 30.—Joseph Kemmler, the murderer sentenced to death by electricity, appealed to the General Term, claiming that his sentence was unconstitutional, as it prescribed an unusual and cruel manner of death. The court held that the evidence went to show that it was not a cruel method of inflicting the death penalty; that it was therefore constitutional, and remanded the prisoner to undergo the punishment. Kemmler's only chance of escape now is through the clemency of the Governor, which is not likely to be exercised.

A potter named Haberkorn, sleeping in the engine-room, states that the fire originated from the explosion of a lamp. The bridges on both railroads between here and Los Angeles are being rapidly repaired. A train over the Southern California is promised tomorrow. The first train from San Diego arrived yesterday. The country south and west of the city is rapidly recovering from the effects of the overflow. Telegraphic communication is fully restored.

Railroad Companies Pay $631,000 Into the State Coffers.

SACRAMENTO, December 30.—The following railroad companies paid into the State Treasury today taxes aggregating over $634,000 on assessments made by the State Board of Equalization: Central Pacific, Southern Pacific, Northern Railway Company, California Pacific, South Pacific Coast, Northern California, California Southern, California Central, Pacific Coast Railway.

The whole amount of taxes assessed against the railroads in this State for '89, was $669,024, of which $392,338, was for State purposes, and $375,696 for the counties through which the roads run. Of the whole amount, but $245 is delinquent, being due from the Pullman Palace company. The general fund receives $199,132 of the taxes; the school fund $78,114. The remainder is divided among the State university and grammar school funds and the railway tax fund for the several counties. The Controller states that by the end of January there will be enough money on hand to pay all outstanding accounts.

A Writ of Mandate Denied.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 30.—The case of Willard vs. the Superior Court of San Diego county was decided today in the Supreme Court. The question in the case was whether a person held for trial on the charge of felony has the right to have a process of the Court to compel the attendance in his behalf of witnesses who are confined as prisoners in the State prison. The Court answers the question in the negative, and denies the petition for a writ of mandate.

Three Registered Pouches.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 30.—The Examiner's Washington special says: The Railway Mail Service has issued an order establishing a daily exchange of three registered pouches between El Paso, Texas, and Los Angeles, Cal., to go into operation on the 6th proximo, the pouches to leaves El Paso at 4:45 p. m., and Los Angeles at 5:01 p. m., via the El Paso and Los Angeles Railroad Postoffice.

Indictments Quashed.

An Important Meeting.

The joint meeting of the Board of Supervisors, the City Council and the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce will take place this afternoon at the rooms of the latter organization. The time set is 2 o'clock. All citizens who are interested in the effort to provide suitable terminal facilities for any railroad that may choose to build to this city are expected to be present.

Taxes Payable until Saturday Night.

Taxpayers in the county will remember that they can pay their taxes until the close of business next Saturday and save the five per cent. added after taxes become delinquent. The Supervisors granted this relief because of the recent storm.

Out All Night.

About 7:30 o'clock yesterday morning the body of a man in an unconscious condition was found lying close to the track of the Southern California railway at the upper end of the yards, by some railroad men who were going to work. Finding their efforts to resuscitate him unavailable, they sent down to the depot and notified the police. Sergeant Jeffries responded with the patrol wagon, and the unconscious man was taken to the Police Station. When searched, a gold watch and chain and $43.30 were found on his person. After about half an hour's work he was restored to consciousness, when it was learned that his name was J. H. Gaust and that he was a butcher. He stated that he had been on a spree the night before, but was unable to account for his being down near the track. It is supposed that while drunk he wandered along and finally lay down to sleep. After resting for a few hours he was released from custody.

The Winter Races.

The outlook for the winter race meeting, which opens tomorrow, is flattering enough to suggest all-round good sport, and given fair weather its success is assured. While there are a number of sprinters on hand at the track, there are several horses of a higher grade, such as those owned by E. J. Baldwin, T. Hazlit, M. Storm, Kelly & Samuels and others. The track is rapidly drying, and competent judges assert that it will be in excellent trim by tomorrow morning, so that fast times will doubtless be the order of the opening day.

The entries for tomorrow's races will be published at Rodman's pool rooms this evening, when pools will be sold upon the various events upon the day's programme.

He Was For Conviction.

Reports purporting to come from the jury-room led the papers to state that Z. Eldridge, one of the jurors who tried Captain Garrett, was in favor of the acquittal of the defendant at first, but afterwards came over to the other side. This was an error. The only juror who at any time advocated the acquittal of Garrett was Mr. Norton. The first ballot was ten for conviction, one blank and one for acquittal. After that all the votes ran eleven to one until the last, which was unanimous. Mr. Eldridge was one of the most consistent advocates of conviction.

A Flattering Endorsement.

The judges on musical instruments at the Centennial Exhibition, Philadelphia, 1876, after severe tests of the pianos of more than forty different makers from all parts of the world recognized the merits of the Sohmer pianos, and wrote a flattering report on them, recommending for them the highest reward in their power to grant—a Medal of Merit and Diploma of Honor, which were unanimously decreed by the United States Centennial Commission.

MR. GLASSELL ON THE SEWERS.

The Engineers' Report on the Sewer Question—Some Remarks Thereon by a Citizen.

On receiving their report, the conservative members of the City Council expressed the desire to hear something from the citizens generally before deciding between the different plans mentioned by the engineers for the disposal of the city sewage. In this they properly recognize the fact that whilst the engineers' opinions on strictly engineering problems are not to be questioned by the average citizen, that in reference to other questions involved in their report, their opinion is entitled to no more weight than that of an equal number of equally intelligent non-professional gentlemen.

Especially when the report contains a statement of several different plans, the right is recognized in the average citizen to exercise his own judgment in selecting from those plans the one which he may consider the most practical, expedient and economical.

The undersigned citizen, therefore, in response to the general invitation referred to, takes the liberty of making some suggestions on the subject.

As to the financial and economic questions involved in the different plans suggested by the engineers, the average citizen and taxpayer is capable of determining for himself, and is deeply interested is seeing to it that no plan be adopted which would result in impoverishing if not actually bankrupting the city.

The recommendation of the said engineers to construct an outfall sewer to Ballona, at the cost of $696,775, is at least startling, especially when we remember that the former estimate for that sewer by our City Engineer was less than that amount by $256,775, and that even that proposition was voted down by the people of the city.

Such extravagant figures, such extravagant discrepancies, make us doubt the infallibility of engineers on questions of economy The query is also suggested: If $440,000, the former estimate for this Ballona sewer, was $256 775 short of the cost of that work, how much short will be the present estimate of $696,775 before the sewer shall be in shape for use?

Before voting this immense sum for this one sewer the average citizen is entitled to consider for himself that the structure when built would not last for all time. The 2,000 feet of cast iron pipe extending into thirty-five feet depth of sea water will immediately commence rusting away, with a rapidity well known to those who have observed the action of sea water on iron. The iron pipes extended into the fresh waters of the great lakes make no precedent for pipes in sea water.

In support of this plan the engineers assume to decide the law point that the sea beach land owners whose lands lie within 1,750 feet on either side of the place where the proposed sewer enters the sea cannot enjoin the use of such sewer, and in support of their opinion find the facts stated in their fifteenth finding, thus:

Fifteenth. By carrying the outfall 2,000 feet into the ocean from the shore and letting the sewage escape 25 feet below low water, no sewage will be traceable in the ocean water, even with strong currents, at a distance of one and one-half miles from the outlet, and a chemical analysis will be unable to detect any traces of sewage at a distance of two miles.

As the land of these land-owners is not distant one and one-half miles from the pipe, but only 1,750 feet, and as 2,000 feet is not equal to two miles, it is easy to see that the facts do not support their decision. Hence it may be true that the sewage being lighter than the sea water, rising to the surface, would be driven by the prevailing winds onto the shore frontage of the land-owners above referred to, who have as much right to maintain injunction suits and protect their sea-bathing and sand beach pure from the pollution of sewage as have their neighbors of Santa Monica, three miles away. This little circumstance is referred to mainly for the purpose of showing that engineers are sometimes no better lawyers than economists, and for the purpose of throwing a doubt upon their other decision—that the city of Los Angeles has no right to use the winter flow of the Los Angeles river for carrying off her surplus sewage during the rainy seasons, when the irrigators would not require it on their lands. The fact that the surplus sewage is now deposited into that river through a ditch or canal of the South Side Irrigation Company and was so deposited at the time of the writing of the engineers' report without any protest or complaint from anyone seems to have been unworthy of our engineers' consideration. But as buffalo trails have taught engineers the best routes for crossing mountains, so the practical outfall ditch of the South Side Irrigation Company now probably teaches engineers and all intelligent citizens of this city the proper practical and economical course for the disposal of the city's sewage during the short periods when it may not be required for irrigation.

Practically the deposit in that stream during the period above referred to is harmless and can work no serious damage to any landowner on the river. But even should there be some question as to the legal right of the city in this respect it would not cost much to obtain a right of way from the riparian owners on this stream. About three months since Mr. Robert Tweedy, who owns about 2,000 acres on that stream below, stated to the writer that he would gladly give the right of way in and along the course of the river through his land simply for the privilege of buying sewage for irrigation, and thought that his neighbors below would gladly do likewise.

At any rate it is almost certain that such right of way can be purchased for a moderate sum of money, and in case of refusal by any riparian owner the right of way could be obtained by condemnation proceedings.

By adopting this course for the disposal of our surplus sewage during the winter rainy season, we would accomplish the object which our learned and intelligent engineers unequivocally declare would be the most desirable and economical of all plans which have occurred to them, provided the legal right exists or can be obtained for so using the river bed. Would it not be prudent for us to investigate and see if this desirable right does not exist—and if not, if it cannot be obtained, and what it would cost to make the right unquestionable?

To secure this right and adopt this plan of outfall, would be an immense saving of money and time; for this course would make it unnecessary to build a close sewer further than to a proper place for depositing into the river bed in the winter season. A comparatively small expense might be required at times to plow open a rough canal or canals [illegible] the sandy bed of the river, to keep [illegible] flow in the proper places. It would also probably be desirable for the city to purchase some three or four hundred acres of sandy river bed at the places of deposit.

All of these expenses, however, would be incomparably small in comparison with the immense cost of the Ballona sewer.

Indeed, it would appear from a careful reading of the engineers' report that the weight of the facts and opinions therein expressed favors this plan rather than the recommendation finally stated by them. Here are some quotations from that report.

Of the disposition of sewage on land the report says: "It is universally accepted by sanitarians and engineers that the most efficient and desirable disposition of sewage is by irrigation on suitable lands. The properties of the soil as a powerful deodorizer have long been recognized. Its capacity as a filter exceeds that of an artificial one, chiefly because the irrigation fields represent a vastly greater area. The facts are that sewage can be made chemically pure only by land filtration, and that should always be resorted to for the disposition of sewage wherever practicable.

"Sewage farms need not cause any nuisance and are not necessarily unhealthy. The sewage should be conducted in smooth, artificial channels, and should only run in earth ditches for temporary purposes. * * * From the foregoing it must appear that on account of the nearness of large areas of irrigable lands, and the comparative distance to the ocean, a disposal of the sewage by irrigation is the most suitable method for Los Angeles. It was therefore necessary to ascertain what lands are available. The conditions of the climate of this section of the country, and the scarcity of water demand that none should be wasted. As the city does not own lands for sewage disposal, the commission inspected the territory lying to the south of it which needs irrigation for the production of crops, and prepared a circular which was handed to all property-holders that could be reached in the Vernon and Florence districts and in the direction of Ballona, inquiring as to their wishes in reference to sewage, in what form they would wish to use it—crude or purified—how many acres they owned, etc.

"A great number of answers were obtained, and the results are tabulated in the report. These tables point unmistakably to the following facts:

"First. That a great portion of the lands lying south of the city are suitable for irrigation purposes.

"Second. That an insufficient amount of land is offered for a permanent disposal of the city's sewage.

"Third. That enough land is, however, available for a disposal during the dry season.

"Fourth. That an insufficient amount of sewage would be accepted in winter.

"These conclusions, together with the experience obtained elsewhere, clearly show that there will be no difficulty of disposing of the sewage on land south of the city during the summer, but that in winter no demand exists therefor.

THE PROBLEM,

Therefore, requiring a solution, is the finding of a practicable method of disposing of the sewage during the winter months."

At this point, when the engineers had apparently arrived at the proper solution of the problem, to-wit: the using of the winter flow of the Los Angeles river for disposing of sewage during the wet weather, they erected for themselves an insurmountable obstacle in the shape of a legal point, which they decided for themselves in the following words:

"First. There is no legal authority to pollute a water course and to create and maintain a nuisance therein, and therefore crude sewage cannot be discharged into the Los Angeles river or any other available stream.

"Second. For this reason it is not within the province of the commission to consider an outfall sewer to the river, nor far from the city, or to any water course within reach, without making provision for the proper purification of the sewage at the point of discharge."

It is here admitted that but for this supposed legal difficulty the surplus sewage, in its crude state, should be discharged into the Los Angeles river during the rainy season, just as it is now being discharged by the South Side Irrigation Company. This writer does not intend to find any fault with the engineers for entertaining this legal opinion. As to the abstract legal question, the doctrine is generally sound as to the pollution of a fresh water stream by an individual. But we do know that Rome discharges her sewage into her Tiber, and Paris hers into the Seine, all the year round.

Cannot Los Angeles do the same thing into her river—for the limited period of the winter rains—where such use would be harmless? Or if she has not the strict legal right, cannot she obtain it as above suggested, especially when the engineers declare that it will almost bankrupt her to take any other course?

This writer feels confident from the purport of the engineers report, as well as from expressions orally made to him by Mr. Herring and others of the commission, that but for the supposed insurmountable legal difficulty in reference to the Los Angeles river, the plan finally recommended by the commission would not have been recommended.

But in lieu thereof, those intelligent gentlemen would have unhesitatingly prepared the plan here suggested, or something like it.

If the course here suggested be adopted we can have a practical outlet for our sewage completed before the next winter rains, besides saving hundreds of thousands of dollars to the city.

If the Ballona scheme be adopted, even under favorable conditions, it will be years before any practical use can be made of it, although the immense estimated cost will have to be paid all the same.

This is eminently a case where further investigation should be had, further knowledge obtained in reference to the availability of the Los Angeles river route, before discarding it and plunging our city into an abyss of debt.

Hoping these suggestions may be of some use to the citizens of our city and to those conducting the affairs of our city, the writer is respectfully,

ANDREW GLASSELL.

GARRETT'S JEOPARDY.

Can Law or Chloroform Save Him Now?

Yesterday Captain F. M. Garrett, being now a convict, was ordered removed from the cell he has hitherto occupied to one where his escape would be impossible. As a preliminary he was ordered to divest himself of his usual garb and to invest himself in clothes furnished by the county. This he strenuously objected to, and only physical force could bring him to make the desired change. One of the objects of changing the clothes of prisoners is to prevent any short cut to the Styx which would not lead through San Quentin. In changing the duds on Garrett an ounce vial of chloroform was found on him. It was labeled "Central Pharmacy, No. 7,779." Inquiry at Captain Hance's place failed to identify the prescription as having been issued from the store. It looks as if the drug had been procured somewhere and then emptied into a vial that had come from the Central Pharmacy. Malia has said often that the old man would not go to the penitentiary if any way could be found to keep out of it. She expresses the opinion that he would die rather than serve out his sentence. Yesterday Garrett came before Judge Shaw in accordance with the order of the Court on Sunday. His attorney, Major Bell, asked that the time of sentence be put off, so as to allow the filing of a motion for a new trial and one for an arrest of judgment as a preliminary thereto. The hour of 10 a. m., Thursday, was set as the time for passing sentence on the man.

Directory—Caution.

Frequent complaints are heard about the disreputable methods of some so-called directory agents. Cases are cited where orders have been tampered with and amounts raised after the order had been taken. Frequently cash in advance has been demanded. No reputable firm will resort to such methods. It is time to give warning to the public to see that you are ordering from a responsible, reliable house like that of R. L. Polk & Co. They published the only California State directory ever issued in 1888, and have now in preparation their next book for 1890. They employ only carefully trained agents, and, having abundant means and ample experience, produce a work that is a credit to the State and one of great value to business men.

In all cases of Catarrh and other diseases of the Respiratory Organs, where the system suffers from the deleterious effects of scrofula or other vitiated condition of the blood local treatment is invariably conjoined with constitutional remedies.

Persons desiring treatment by this system of practice can use the remedies at home as well as at our office, and which will cause no inconvenience or hindrance to business whatever.

I have seen so many of these cases cured that I do not consider any case hopeless, unless the disease has advanced to the chest and both lungs are seriously involved. The inhalations aid us in dissolving the mucus and in connecting and healing the cavities, which nothing else can do with the same success.

The very best of references from those already cured.

Those who desire to consult me in regard to their cases had better call at the office for an examination, but if impossible to visit the office personally can write for list of questions and circular, both of which will be sent free of charge. Address

Worth : Investigation.

We are making suits to order of the fine Huddersfield Worsteds for $25 which are worth $40. As the sale of these fine worsteds during the past three weeks has proved such an immense success in San Francisco, we concluded to give the benefit to the public of Los Angeles. We have purchased $40,000 worth of these Huddersfield worsteds and have added a large line of Kerseys and Meltons for overcoats made to order, with fine silk linings, for $25 to $30, which would cost elsewhere at least from $40 to $60. We have received from the mill over 40 pieces of fine Trouserings, which we bought at an immense reduction, and we are now prepared to give our customers and the public the benefit. These are fine ALL WOOL goods at prices never before known in Los Angeles. Please call and examine the goods and be convinced of the bargains now offered for the holidays.

THE RAYMOND, EAST PASADENA,

Among the Orange Groves of the beautiful San Gabriel Valley, eight miles from Los Angeles,

C. H. MERRILL, Manager (during the summer season manager of the Crawford House, White Mountains, N. H.)

If you cannot go out to The Raymond and spend a day, a week, a month, or the whole season, then go out and stay a few hours. It is well worth your while to see the magnificent view from its piazzas; and that view alone will well repay you, although there are many other interesting features—especially the grand display of flowers in the hotel grounds, which are now under the charge of Mr. C. H. Hovey, the celebrated landscape gardener, formerly of Hovey's Nurseries, Cambridge, Mass. Tourists visiting Los Angeles should make a trip to The Raymond, even if their stay there must necessarily be brief. There are frequent trains between Los Angeles and The Raymond by several lines of railroad. The orchestra consists of four soloists, who render the choicest of music twice each day.

A very complete livery is connected with the hotel, and it is an excellent starting-point for a drive through the San Gabriel valley, in which are situated the San Gabriel Mission church, Rose's winery, Lucky Baldwin's stock farm, the Sierra Madre Villa, and many other places of interest.

Full particulars regarding board and other matters can be obtained by addressing C. H. Merrill, Manager of The Raymond, East Pasadena, California.

EXCHANGE REVIEW.

NEW YORK, December 30.—The stringency in the local money market was again the controlling factor in the stock market today, and weakness and demoralization were the features in the early trading, though a partial recovery later gave a better tone to the market. The unusual, and of course unexpected action of the governors of the Bank of England this morning in raising the rate of discount from 5 to 6 per cent., when the regular meeting day is Thursday, and a reduction had been expected some time, caused considerable demoralization among foreign holders of American securities. The lightness of money here was intensified and rates on call were soon raised to 25 per cent., and later touched 40 before a reaction was had. Rates fell away rapidly to 15, and, after the borrowers were accommodated, it fell to 4 at the close. The action of the Treasury Department in offering to repay January interest without a rebate, had more than anything else to do with the easing up of the money rate, but a further decline in sterling exchange was also an influential factor. The list is almost invariably lower tonight, though the declines are fractional, one important net loss being recorded. Trusts are quiet and without features.

Government bonds were dull and steady.

Petroleum opened steady at 103¼, declined to 102⅞; then rallied to 103⅜. Interest then died out, and there was no feature to late trading, close being steady at 103¼.
